

“A Life on Our Planet” David Attenborough’s documentary film

The Keene Valley Congregational Church, Adirondack Mothers Out Front, and the Keene Valley Library are cosponsoring two Zoom events to discuss David Attenborough’s documentary film “A Life on Our Planet.” The events are open to the whole community.

We suggest participants view the film (available through Netflix streaming) before the discussion. For those who are unable to stream or would like to see the film on a big screen, Keene Valley Library will host four showings of the films using their Netflix subscription. Each showing is limited to six people, observing CDC guidelines. Reservations will be required and coordinated through the library.

---

Screening times at the Keene Valley Library by reservation only.

Saturday, March 13. 1- 3pm

Tuesday, March 16. 1- 3pm

Thursday, April 22. 1- 3pm

Saturday, April 24. 1- 3pm

Email KVLA.library@gmail.com. Subject: Attention - Karen Glass for movie showing reservations.
(Each registrant will receive a number identifier for admission).

---

We will then have an opportunity to discuss the film together on Zoom.

Wednesday March 18 at 7pm. Facilitator Pastor John Sampson, KVCC Creation Justice Church initiative. This discussion will concentrate on a faith community’s response to the climate crisis as depicted in the film.

Saturday April 24 at 4pm. Facilitator Ann Sayers, Mothers Out Front
Participants will be provided with open ended questions to form the discussion.

---

Note that the April events are during Earth Day week, April 18-24, to complement these two KVCC events:

April 18 - Dr. Curt Stager preaches at the Sunday service

April 22 - Earth Day service on Zoom at 7pm.